Arkansas Is Charged in Plane Theft

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — A Blytheville, Ark., man charged last Monday in warrants for theft of a twin-engine aircraft has been identified as one of three persons who apparently flew the plane to lower Mexico.

Police Chief Ed Fuller said Saturday that Michael P. Alexander, 25, is hospitalized along with a man and a woman from Tennessee in Mexico. Reports on whether the seven-passenger Aerocommander aircraft crashed conflict, Fuller said.

The three persons' whereabouts became known, according to Fuller, when Connie L. Foster of Memphis called her mother from Campeche, Mexico.

Miss Foster told her mother that she was with Alexander and Jim Palgo, 31, of Memphis, and requested that money be sent for her return home, Fuller said.

ploded in a two-story, block-long GE warehouse and appliance repair store in Brooklyn breaking four panes of glass and causing no injuries. Police said the 18-inch-long pipe bomb appeared to be the work of an amateur.

Police then posted special security watches on other GE facilities in the city. Two hours later a foot patrolman discovered a cylindrical metal bomb in a brown paper package in front of GE's headquarters building in Manhattan. Bomb experts deactivated the device.

The anonymous caller dictated his news release-style statement apparently from a pay telephone some distance from Washington. At one point an operator broke in to say that the initial three minutes had elapsed.

"By this action we express our solidarity with the D.C. 9 who are presently on trial in Washington," the caller said. He referred to nine persons accused of ransacking offices of the Dow Chemical Co. in Washington last year.

Israel, Egypt Jets Strike in Middle East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Israeli and Egyptian jets traded strikes across the northern Suez Canal today as the little summit meeting of Israel's chief Arab foes drew to a close in Cairo.

Israeli planes made a 75-minute raid against Egyptian military targets in the northern sector of the canal, the military command announced in Tel Aviv, and all planes returned safely.

Egyptian military spokesmen in Cairo reported that Egyptian fighter-bombers attacked "enemy bunkers and an encampment in the Deversoir area, scoring direct hits." The planes hit a group of moving Israeli vehicles, the spokesmen said, and also attacked Israeli tanks on a main road in Sinai. All planes were reported to have returned safely.

problem?" Rep. Talbot Field, Jr. introduced the speaker with whom he has worked in an attempt by the state legislature to curb drug abuse in our state. The program was arranged by Harold Eakley, and vice-president Dick Moore presided over the meeting in the absence of the president.

The numerous guests included Danny Seal, Texarkana Gazette; Dan Flowers and Carl Chesney, Arkansas Highway Department, Little Rock; Bob Myers; Mike Kelly; Larry Lawrence; George Frazier; Mrs. Lynn Harris; and Mrs. Forney Holt.

Since the answer to the problem lies in education, it is important that more about drugs and their dangerous effects be taught to everyone. The cost of such education is small indeed, compared to the loss of the lives of our young people, who are the hope of the future.

Dr. Dusenberry placed the situation squarely before the group when he asked, "Is this community ready to meet the

Calvary Church to Show Billy Graham Film

"THE RESTLESS ONES," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Hope on Feb. 10 7:15 p.m. in Calvary Baptist Church 1201 W. Ave. B.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teen-age crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "THE RESTLESS ONES" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems.

Students Here Pages at State Convention

Recently Becky Ward, Tina Martin and Stanley Wilson served as pages for the 1969-70 Constitutional Convention, in Little Rock.

The pages duties consisted of such things as working on the chamber floor, working in research and answering telephone messages. The entire week proved to be very educational.

Becky Ward is a Senior representative on the Student Council, a 1969 Girls State delegate, a Junior Counselor, a member of the Nike Club, and is on the 1970 Bobcat Staff.

Stanley Wilson is Vice-President of the National Honor Society, a Junior Counselor, a Senior representative on the Student Council, and a semifinalist in the National Achievement Scholarship program.

Tina Martin is Treasurer of the Student Council, captain of the Bobettes, a Homecoming Maid, 1970 FFA Sweetheart, Recipient of the third quarter Joe Amour Award, a 1969 Girls State delegate, the Business Manager on the Bobcat Staff, a member of the FTA, FHA, Nike Club, and Spanish Club.

Decision Is Explained by High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today explained an earlier 4-3 decision that state Sen. Robert Harvey of Swift was legally eligible for his position as a Constitutional Convention delegate.

The ruling, handed down Jan. 10, was based upon the interpretation of the position of delegate as not being a civil office.

Lyda T. Ridgeway of Newport filed suit this year contending that Harvey could not serve both as senator and convention delegate.

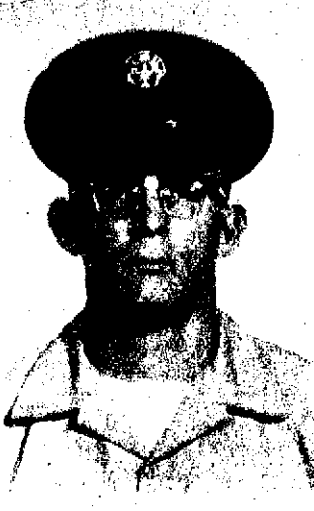

Her taxpayers suit argued that Harvey was ineligible under Article 5, Section 10 of the state Constitution, which provides that no senator or representative holding office shall be appointed or elected "to any civil office" under this state.

Justice J. Fred Jones, writing the Jan. 10 majority opinion, said a civil office would be under one of the three divisions of the powers of state government — executive, legislative or judicial under the Constitution.

"We are of the opinion that Sen. Harvey's position as delegate to the Constitutional Convention is not derived from the Constitution at all," Jones said. "It is derived directly from that power 'inherent in the people' as 'simply announced' elsewhere in the Constitution.

"Unlike the constitutions of some of the states, the present Constitution of Arkansas does not provide a method of obtaining a new constitution, and we may reasonably assume that the people intended it that way," the court said.

Article 2, Section 1 of the Constitution "explains why the Con-

Wants Reaction of People in Showing 'Hair'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The promoter of a number of theatrical productions in Little Rock has asked Arkansas playgoers whether they would like to see the musical "Hair" appear in the capital.

Phillip G. Back of Superior Attractions said Saturday he was considering the possibility of bringing "Hair" to Little Rock next year but wants an expression from playgoers because, with its brief nude scene, the musical might be controversial.

"We like to be governed by the peoples' wishes and desires," Back said.

State Folklore Featured by Smithsonian

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Worth Long of Little Rock, a Negro poet, has said he will concentrate on central and southern Arkansas to collect Negro folk culture about Arkansas from the Smithsonian Institute in Washington.

Arkansas will be featured in the fourth annual Festival of American Folklore at the Smithsonian July 1-5. About 25-30 other states will participate.

Long said he was using material from these two regions, rather than the Ozarks, because the Ozark region has been studied before.

SAYS NIXON (from page one)

Kennedy, along with McCracken and Budget Director Robert P. Mayo and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns, indicated the economy will continue to coast down for the next few months.

"Then," Kennedy said, "we will level out sometime this year to a more sustainable rate and then there will be an increase in activity on a more sustainable basis."

Kennedy, McCracken and Mayo appeared on NBC's Sunday interview program "Meet the Press."

McCracken didn't say it, but to carry out monetary policy changes will require the cooperation of the Independent Federal Reserve Board and Burns.

The Fed, as the board is called, operates on its own to control credit in the nation and therefore the flow of money in the economy, affected only by the President through suggestions and public appeals.

Burns, who served as a top Nixon adviser before being appointed as Fed chairman, indicated to Congress Saturday he may not agree entirely with McCracken's assessment of the need for less restrictive monetary controls.

Tight rein on government spending and adherence to the current program of monetary restraint are among the most important factors in fighting inflation, he said.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Jacques Cousteau and his underwater adventures reported on their studies of the big sea elephants — "The Cyranos of the Sea" — in another fascinating chapter of the ABC series Sunday night.

The sea mammals, which often weigh three tons, were observed on a short section of beach on Guadalupe Island off Baja California. There the animals flock around Christmas time to give birth to their young and to mate—in such numbers that many of the newborn are smothered or crushed.

There was some stunning underwater photography showing the creatures, so clumsy waddling on land but so graceful in the water.

The hour was a study in irony. The mammals were hunted almost to extinction before 1911 when the Mexican government protected them. There followed what the program called "a population explosion" of sea elephants—which is now threatened by man's pollution of the waters off the California coast.

NBC and CBS provided air time Sunday afternoon—at different hours—for a program made by Democratic members of Congress to respond to President Nixon's televised State of the Union address last month.

It was a mixture of styles and techniques of presentation. Sens. Edmund Muskie and Henry Jackson were simply interviewed on their viewpoints. Rep. Patsy Mink of Hawaii interviewed women shoppers in a supermarket on inflation and high interest rates. Some young members of Congress were interviewed on the same subject. They talked seriously to other young people.

The program, in spite of all the effort, will not be too far from the truth. It was the first time a political party has used professional help for a rebuttal. The general tone of the analysis, by Mark Eric Gorkin and Dan Kellner, seemed sharper in its criticism of the program content than the program itself was of the Republican administration.

Roger Moad, participating in a CBS analysis after the program, noted that it was the first time a political party has used professional help for a rebuttal. The general tone of the analysis, by Mark Eric Gorkin and Dan Kellner, seemed sharper in its criticism of the program content than the program itself was of the Republican administration.

Friday night's drama special, "A Storm in Summer," on NBC was a moving and poignant story about a relationship between a hostile, street-wise little boy from a Harlem slum and a kind old Jewish delicatessen store owner. The original drama by Rod Serling was a fine one. Peter Ustinov was perfect as the shuffling old man, embittered by the loss of an only son in World War II. "Cal Dixon was completely believable as the proud, tough 10-year-old.

NBC will spin a new soap opera off an established one at the end of March. "Another World — Somerset" will be related to the current serial "Another World" with characters and plots interchanged. A new device in daytime serials, it is used in CBS's "Green Acres" and "Petticoat Junction." The new series will occupy the time period now filled with the game show "Name Dropers."

The Ishihara test is given for color blindness.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people. Their problems and their questions, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

STAY NEUTRAL IF YOU WANT TO STAY FRIENDS

Dear Helen: My husband and I have a very good friend with a big problem. He wants advice from us. We're asking you.

Ten years ago he met a woman and they fell in love. She is now a widow. This man is still married. He has wanted to leave his wife often, but something always interfered—illness of a child or his wife, uproar by his parents who would not accept divorce in the family. The parents are now dead, his children grown. His wife knows about the affair which creates much friction in his home.

Our friend says he intends to get back to the other woman permanently this time, but doesn't know how to go about it—gradually, or with a quick break, telling his wife he is through.

What should we advise?—CONCERNED FRIENDS

Dear Friends: I suspect Weak Willie doesn't want advice, but rather someone to blame if he makes the wrong choice. I also suspect that he'll keep right on vacillating so long as the two women in his life allow it.

Stay on the sidelines and let THEM slice them up. Friends are for listening, but decisions must come from those actively involved.—H.

Dear Helen: This is a bit late, but I'd like to comment on the woman who didn't approve of a married man taking to sea in a small boat for a long voyage. I didn't either, but I ended up sailing with my husband and 12-month-old baby, in a 34-foot boat from Denmark to the West Indies. Although my teeth were clenched most of the way, I look back and realize it was fascinating—and my husband thinks I'm wonderful.

The lady should ship out and she will find a whole new way of life — frightening, primitive sometimes, but exhilarating and free. Her husband isn't insane. He just likes a different kind of challenge. Perhaps next time we'll sail around the world in our small craft, CONVERTED SEA DOG.

Dear C.S.D: Before you shape up and ship out, contact a magazine. You can probably finance your trip by writing about it.—H.

Dear Helen: There's a rumor going around here about a woman who got bitten by a snake when she tried on a coat in a local import shop. Seems that the snake's eggs were in the lining; they hatched in transit, and the one offspring survived. She was hospitalized, the story goes. Could this be possible?—APPREHENSIVE

Dear AP: This sounds as probably as the story which regularly makes the rounds about a human finger being found in a public swimming pool.

Rest assured: If anyone were bitten by a snake who lurked in a coat lining, you'd read it on the front page, not in an advice column!—H.

Dear Helen: You read a lot about racial discrimination, but what about discrimination within the race? Black women, for example, are downgraded by their men so much that they begin to hate themselves and each other. Our men are emerging, but they still keep us in the role of "minimates." As more and more white women chase them, we're left farther behind, and the blacker we are, the less chance we have.

This is a plea to Negro men: When you say "Black is beautiful," say it to include black WOMEN too!—SECOND GRAD-ED BY THE SECOND CLASS

Dear SGSC: Awareness of a problem is the first step in solving it. Magazines such as EBONY, LOOK, etc. have made black women aware. So now, get in there and fight for your rightful place beside your men!—H.

SOUTHSIDE BAPTIST, HOPE, ARK.

The W.M.A. met Feb. 2 at the home of Verdell Luece, with 15 members present. Opening song was "When I See the Blood" led by Ina Ivers. Opening Prayer by Francis Gilley. Our president Laraine Atkins was in charge of business which we elected workers for June Bible School. A very inspiring devotion from Gal. 2:20 by Martha White. Meeting closed by prayer led by Martha Orr. Fellowship and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Hawks Know of Collective Bargaining

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Atlanta Hawks must know something about collective bargaining. They only worked 5 minutes and 1 second Sunday and got overtime while the Chicago Bulls had to struggle 48 minutes of straight time for the same prize—a National Basketball Association victory.

It was a unique doubleheader at the Chicago Stadium. First, the Hawks won a 142-137 overtime decision, completing a game started last Nov. 6 and ordered resumed by NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy with one second left in regulation time. Then, the Bulls stamped to a 117-107 triumph in the regularly scheduled game.

Chicago had protested the Nov. 6 game after referee Bob Rakel disallowed a last-second basket by Tom Boerwinkle that would have tied the score at 124. The timekeeper said the buzzer never sounded, although Rakel said he heard it.

When play resumed, Atlanta's Gary Gregor missed a desperation shot. Lou Hudson then took charge with nine overtime points. In the regularly scheduled contest, Bob Love scored 18 of his 36 points in the fourth period, including six straight at the start of the quarter after the Bulls had blown most of an 18-point lead.

The split left Atlanta 1½ games ahead of Los Angeles in the Western Division after the Lakers beat San Diego 125-113. The Bulls, winning for only the third time in 16 starts, nudged five percentage points in front of the San Francisco in the battle for the fourth and last playoff berth.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Milwaukee 120-106, Seattle nipped Philadelphia 118-117 and Boston beat Cincinnati 130-117.

In the American Basketball Association, it was Indiana 109, Kentucky 107 in overtime; New York 95, Carolina 88; Denver 115, Miami 103 and Washington 132, Pittsburgh 124.

Jerry West scored 34 points and rookie Rick Roberson added 26—22 in the first half—as the Lakers whipped the Rockets. It was a career high for the 6-foot-9 Roberson, who hit nine of his first 10 shots.

Wes Unseld, last season's Rookie of the Year, scored 18 points and grabbed 10 rebounds in the first half—he finished with 22 and 14—in leading Baltimore over Milwaukee. Earl Monroe topped the Bulls with 23 points while Lew Alcindor, this year's rookie sensation, tallied 36 for the Bucks, who dropped 7½ games behind New

Marcotte Is Big Gun in Bruins Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Marcotte, called up in the midst of a Boston epidemic, is keeping the Bruins healthy.

Marcotte connected for his first National Hockey League hat trick Sunday night, firing three goals that helped the Bruins to a 7-1 decision over St. Louis and kept them tied for second place with Montreal in the East Division, two points back of New York.

Recalled from Hershey 12 games ago when illness and injury depleted the Bruins' ranks, Marcotte had impressed Coach Harry Sinden with his defensive work. That commodity has been conspicuously absent in Boston this season with the Bruins allowing more goals than anyone else in the East.

But it was his scoring that had the Bruins smiling Sunday. The three goals gave him half a dozen since his recall and insured a longer stay for the rookie.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, Montreal nipped Chicago 3-2, New York ripped Los Angeles 5-1, Philadelphia dropped Detroit 5-3 and Pittsburgh belted Minnesota 6-3.

In Saturday's games, Toronto walloped Oakland 5-1, Pittsburgh tripped Los Angeles 3-1, Montreal tied Minnesota 1-1, Detroit and Boston played to a 2-2 tie and Philadelphia and Chicago tied 4-4.

Marcotte played on a newly constructed line with Wayne Cashman and Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading goal scorer. The new wings didn't bother Espo, who collected his 32nd goal of the season and three assists.

The four points gave the rangy center 72 for the season, 10 less than teammate Bobby Orr, who picked up one assist. John McKenzie scored two goals for the Bruins and almost was credited with a hat trick, too. Esposito's tip-in goal was originally credited to McKenzie before the official scorer changed the decision.

Montreal had to come from behind against Chicago to remain tied with the Bruins for second place. The Black Hawks led 2-1 before Mickey Redmond tied the score midway through the second period. Then Bobby Rousseau's second goal of the night and 20th of the season midway through the final period, gave the Canadiens their victory.

The Hawks played without regular defenseman Pat Stapleton and Doug Mohns, both sidelined by injuries. John Ferguson was out for the Canadiens. New York got goals from five different players including a pair 36 seconds apart in the first period by veteran Don Marshall and rookie Bill Fairbairn to whip Los Angeles.

The victory kept the Rangers two points up on both Boston and Montreal. New York has also played two fewer games than either the Bruins or Canadiens.

Guy Gendron scored two goals—his 18th and 19th of the season—as Philadelphia scored its first victory ever at Detroit. Gordie Howe collected the 750th goal of his fabulous career for the Red Wings.

York in the Eastern Division.

Another rookie, Jo Jo White, scored 26 points and John Havlicek chipped in with 24 as the Celtics defeated Cincinnati. The defending champs climbed to within five games of fourth-place Philadelphia when Seattle, paced by Bob Rule's 29 points, edged the 76ers. The Sonics won all six games from Philly, the first season sweep in their three-year history.

Saturday, New York beat Cincinnati 121-114, Phoenix downed Los Angeles 121-117 in overtime, Philadelphia defeated San Francisco 115-111 and Detroit turned back Seattle 113-109.

G&F Explains Pen Raised Quail Program

LITTLE ROCK — The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission is receiving many letters concerning the pen raised quail program, and it seems that many people don't understand how the program works. Many people feel that all they must do is request a certain number of birds, pay for them, and the birds will be delivered. This is not exactly the case.

First, the supply is limited. At the January Commission meeting the board of Commissioners voted to raise 20,000 birds. This is the highest number of birds that can be raised to produce a quality bird of the type that the Commission is willing to release.

The next item is cost. These birds cost 80c apiece to raise and deliver. (Delivery means on the ground in good quail habitat anywhere in the state.) This year the Commission will sell the quail at one-half cost, 40c per bird, and absorb the other half of the cost. Maximum and minimum number per person is 100 quail. Applications will not be accepted for either fewer or more.

Now, how to obtain the quail. Any person wanting to obtain birds through this program must first write to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, attention Game Division, Little Rock, Ark., 72201, and request an "Application for Quail." This should be a request for application, and no additional information or money need accompany this letter. That comes later.

An application will be sent immediately. It is to be filled out and returned to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, attention Game Division, DO NOT SEND MONEY with the completed application. Upon receipt of the completed form, it will be reviewed and accepted or rejected. If accepted, the person requesting the quail will be notified and then must send their check or money order (no cash please) made payable to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, for the full amount at 40c per bird, to the same address used in previous correspondence. # Daytona Place to Find Out, Says Driver

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "When you're out of control, you're not a driver, you're a wreck," says a driver who won the pole position for the Feb. 22 Daytona 500, richest of all stock car racing events.

"Getting out of the hospital six weeks ago and knowing that I would be alright was one of the big events of my life," said the stock 195-pounder from Timmonsville, S. C. "Coming down here and winning the pole was even better."

Yarborough, 29, shattered his right shoulder in a crash at Texas International Speedway early in December. Doctors had despaired of his ever driving again. But the sturdy ex-football player made what one doctor described as a "marvelous" recovery.

Yarborough's record lap — his official clocking was 46.386 seconds — was more than four miles faster than the old track record of 190.706 m.p.h. which he set in qualifying for the Firecracker 400 last July.

Five other drivers bettered the old mark and two others topped David Pearson's Daytona 500 qualifying record of 190.029 m.p.h. on a windy, sunny day.

The slowest speed turned was 146.583 as 25 drivers took runs under the speedway clock.

Self-Help Tips to Get Car Started on Frigid Days

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

It is mid-February. The mercury in the thermometer is out of sight, and you're wearing galoshes as much to keep warm as to keep dry. You creep into the frigid interior of your car, step on the starter — and pray.

What happens then has a lot to do with how much you spend for winter car operation. Cold-weather car failures can make you the mechanic's best friend.

It is quite possible that you are spending more than you should to remain mobile. Some simple first aid can often solve the more common problems. Let's go back to that early morning experience and see what happened.

When you turned the key, the starter either turned over the engine—or it didn't. If the starter refused to crank the engine, or cranked it very slowly, then the battery is either sickly or dead.

In the long run, this means you need a new battery, but right now, what you need is a transfusion. This is no great trick if you have a set of jumper cables (less than $5 at your hardware store). You can use these to connect your battery to a neighbor's, thereby borrowing enough power to get yourself started.

One caution here: Even before the days of automatic transmissions, pushing one car with another was a rough business. With an automatic transmission in either car, it's best not to try pushing at all.

Now if the starter cranked merrily away when you turned the key, but the engine still didn't start, one of several things can be wrong.

In an excess of enthusiasm, you may have flooded the carburetor by pumping the accelerator. Ideally, you should begin a cold start by depressing the accelerator pedal to the floor once, to set the automatic choke, then depress it halfway and hold it there while cranking the engine.

If you suspect flooding, lift the hood and sniff. If you get a good whiff of raw gasoline, return to the house for another cup of coffee and try again in 15 minutes.

If you smell nothing, remove the air cleaner. This is the big, round object that sits on top of the engine, held down by a single wing nut.

Underneath the air cleaner is the carburetor, and in the throat of the carburetor is the choke. The choke is a metal disk that pivots in such a way as to allow it to close off the carburetor throat.

If the disk is vertical and the throat wide open, it may be stuck and not doing its job. Jiggle it with your finger, and then try to restart as described above.

If the disk is horizontal, and the throat properly closed, then the engine may not be getting any gas, due to a gasoline freeze. To check, have someone else depress the accelerator once or twice quickly, while you check the carburetor throat.

If you can't hear, see or smell raw gas when the pedal is depressed, a line freeze is likely and you need help from a mechanic.

But if you are getting gas, and the starter is functioning, then the problem is probably in the ignition system. It could be worn points, plugs or condenser, none of which you can readily replace yourself. It could also be other things too numerous to mention.

But if the car was running the night before, it may just be suffering from a too-weak spark due to battery drain. Here again, a hot shot from another battery, via jumper cables, might be enough to do the trick.

If all this fails, give up and call the garage. At least you will know that the problem is serious enough to warrant the call for help.

THE WELL CHILD

Infection, Not Heredity, Is Cause of Nephritis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My son, 8, had nephritis three years ago and made a complete recovery. How long will he have to take daily doses of penicillin? Is nephritis hereditary? Are any other tests besides urinalysis needed?

A—Daily doses of penicillin are not needed unless some other disease is present but they should be started again promptly at the first sign of any febrile illness. This should prevent any serious recurrence. The cause of nephritis is an infection, not heredity. The diagnosis is made by finding blood and albumin in the urine.

Q—My grandson, 6, has flat feet and has been wearing arch supports for six months. Now he walks hunched forward like an old man. Do you have any suggestions?

A—In most children with flat feet, no treatment is needed, especially if the condition was present since birth. Exercises to strengthen the arches, walking barefoot or basic orthopedic shoes are usually preferred to arch supports.

Young Non-Voters

The United States has a fairly young population, with a median age of not quite 28 years. But the median age of persons who voted in the 1968 presidential election, as calculated from Census Bureau figures, is a little beyond 46.

Forty-nine per cent of persons 24 years of age and younger, and of voting age, did not vote. Only at the other end of the scale—75 years and up—can a stay-at-home record be found that comes close.

Perhaps youthful enthusiasm would drive teen-agers to the polling places in greater numbers. But it's apparent that by the time young people reach 21, the minimum in most states, they have lost much of whatever eagerness they may once have had.

Hard To Please

A Pasadena, Texas, school principal sent a girl home the other day because her dress was too long. The girl was wearing an ankle length "maxi-skirt" because, her mother said the weather was cold.

It is not known whether this principal sent any girls home for wearing dresses that were too short. But some principals have done this. It seems principals are getting mighty hard to please these days.

Starting Point

Volumes of words have been written about the advent of the Seventies. And much attention has been pointed to the idea that we are just now entered into a new decade.

This is the point upon which a hoary debate revolves. Does a new decade commence on the first day of 1970 or on the first day of 1917? Does a century begin, say, in 1900 or 2000, or on New Year's Day in 1901 or 2001?

Some are of the "00" persuasion. Others side with the "17". Our own inclination is to categorize the debate along with the questions, "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" and "How long is a piece of string?"

Who Will Report the 1st Martin?

FAYETTEVILLE — Who will have the high honor of reporting the first purple martin in Arkansas this year?

Any day now, admirers of Arkansas' largest swallow will be looking up into the late winter not skies and listening for the martin's strange cry, or stopping by not at the nearest pond to see if the sleek, glistening birds are skimming the water for insects.

The earliest arrival date officially reported in Arkansas was Feb. 7, 1969 at Hope, according to Dr. Douglas James of the University of Arkansas, curator and keeper of records for the Arkansas Audubon Society.

(Editor's Note: The first purple martin arrival in Arkansas in 1969 was reported by C.H. Wilson of Fulton, but the date was Feb. 8 instead of Feb. 7, according to Hope Star's files.)

"For some unexplained reason, returning purple martins reach Arkansas some years much earlier than in most years; ordinarily they are fairly regular in their arrival dates," Dr. James comments.

He adds that they usually reach South Arkansas anywhere from the second through the last week of February; Central Arkansas sees them as early as the third week of February but more commonly the first week in March; they reach North Arkansas last in their northward journey, usually in mid-March or later.

Meantime, along the Arkansas highways and byways the martin houses fresh and clean after being hauled out of winter storage, ride high in the yards of the many bird watchers hoping to attract a share of the state's purple martin population.

Dr. James says reports of sightings should go to the bulletin editor of the Arkansas Audubon Society, Mrs. Henry Halberg of 5809 N. Country Club, Little Rock 72207.

Education Issue Before the Senate

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate turned today to consideration of southern proposals for student-parent freedom of choice in the selection of schools, including one plan Sen. John Stennis says is written along the lines of a New York state law.

Stennis, a Mississippi democrat, says if such a plan can stand in New York, then Congress can permit no less for the rest of the nation.

Although Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hopes the Senate can complete work on the $35 billion education bill by Tuesday, Stennis said he anticipated considerable discussion on the freedom of choice amendment and other proposals offered by Dixie Senators.

Thus it is uncertain whether the bill extending major school aid programs for four years can be passed before the traditional Lincoln Day recess gets under way at the close of business Tuesday. The lawmakers' holiday period ends next Monday.

Meanwhile, governors of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana announced after a meeting Sunday in Mobile, Ala., they plan to meet soon with their congressional delegations.

The governors seek unified action to meet what they term "chaotic conditions" facing their schools because the new law has rebuffed efforts to block immediate desegregation through busing.

The Stennis amendment provides that, unless the local school board agrees, "no student shall be assigned or compelled to attend any school on account of race, creed, color, or national origin, or for the purpose of achieving equality in attendance, at any school, of persons of one or more particular races, creeds, colors or national origins."

The Supreme Court has held that freedom of choice can be allowed only if it is the best way to achieve an end to dual school systems.

In a speech prepared in opposition to the amendment, New Jersey Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case said:

"I believe there is some justification for feeling that the South is taking the brunt of the desegregation effort. But I disavow any diminution of pressure for desegregation in the South."

"In my view, two wrongs do not make a right. We must get looking up and listening for the martin's strange cry, or stopping by not at the nearest pond to see if the sleek, glistening birds are skimming the water for insects."

The earliest arrival date officially reported in Arkansas was Feb. 7, 1969 at Hope, according to Dr. Douglas James of the University of Arkansas, curator and keeper of records for the Arkansas Audubon Society.

High Cost of Medicare and Medicaid Places Pressure on Congress

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will face great pressure to turn medicare and medicaid into some form of national health insurance unless the rapid increase in medical costs is halted, a Senate staff report says.

In a report released Sunday after a year of work, the Finance Committee staff recommends establishing maximum fees for doctors under the two big government programs as one way of slowing health expenses.

"The charges for adequate nongovernment health insurance are rising to levels beyond the financial capacity of millions of hardworking Americans," the report said.

If these are not slowed, the staff said, "Congress may reasonably anticipate increased pressures upon it to extend the medicare and medicaid programs to encompass large segments of the population not now covered." — In other words, some kind of national health insurance.

The committee has not endorsed the report specifically. However, it was praised by Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., and Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican member.

Both said they were confident at least some of the recommendations would be adopted by Congress this year.

The staff proposals included suggestions for reducing charges by physicians, hospitals and nursing homes, and for instituting far more effective controls by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The staff said medicare, which covers all persons over 65, now costs $8.3 billion a year. Medicaid, designed to aid those on welfare and other poor persons, costs $5.5 billion yearly.

Both exceed original estimates, the report said.

Many overpayments and other types of abuses on the part of doctors were found, the staff said.

It said maximum doctors' fees could be based on revenue obtainable from present monthly payments of $4 each by subscribers to medicare part B and by the government.

The Nixon administration has said these will be raised to $5.30 effective July 1.

The staff plan would keep the $4 rate and eliminate the $50 a year deductible which each subscriber must now pay.

The report skirts the touchy question of how many doctors might join such a plan. Now each physician can set his own fee but he is supposed to be reimbursed only on the basis of a reasonable charge.

The report charged insurance firms have not followed the intent of Congress that they pay doctors no more than they would pay for their own subscribers.

Other criticisms included:

The government and the insurance companies do not have the procedures to check on physicians who might be abusing the programs.

Nursing homes have been classified as skilled care facilities even though they are below standard.

Bombs Cause Damage at 2 GE Plants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bombs caused slight damage to two General Electric Co. facilities in New York City Sunday night not long after an anonymous caller claimed credit for vandalizing a GE office in Washington, D.C., as a protest of the company's war production. No one was hurt by the blasts.

New York police discovered and defused a third bomb early Sunday in front of the GE headquarters building in midtown Manhattan.

The FBI was investigating the incidents. Police offered no speculation on whether they were related.

"We have taken this action to disrupt functioning of the machine of death and oppression," the caller said Sunday to The Associated Press. He said he was the "second leading producer of armament for the United States government."

He made no mention of the subsequent New York bombs, but said "we are the same group of people" who vandalized three Selective Service centers in Philadelphia Saturday. Two persons were arrested in that incident.

After the telephone tip Washington police and GE officials discovered that papers had been strewn about the floors of GE's 11th floor offices, center of most of its Washington operations. A spokesman said sensitive materials were not disturbed and apparently nothing was stolen. The caller said his group had "liberated and destroyed" GE files.

Late Sunday night a bomb exploded in front of the GE building.

Millions of Pounds of Beef Sold to Public From Cancer Eye Stock

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans during the last fiscal year ate millions of pounds of beef from cattle that had "cancer eye" or similar tumorous disorders, Agriculture Department records show.

Nearly 103,000 cattle carcasses checked by federal inspectors were held in meat plants until tumors were removed and the remainder of the meat was put on the market, according to the statistics.

But the department says the cattle situation differs from chicken processing in which the government requires any bird with a tumorous part be entirely destroyed and not passed on to the consumer.

One distinction, say federal authorities, is that leukosis or chicken cancer virus may be spread throughout the bird while a localized tumor on a cow's head has no relation with the rest of her lump.

Red meat animals such as cattle, hogs and sheep are so anatomically different, say Agriculture Department experts, that comparisons with poultry are limited except on aesthetic grounds.

But last week Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld, U.S. surgeon general, told the Agriculture Department, a ban on diseased poultry should continue "predominantly on aesthetic grounds and because scientists do not have all the answers."

Of the 103,000 cows temporarily held back in fiscal 1969, 168 carcasses had carcinoma-involving tumors which may appear anywhere in the body—and 102,669 having epithelioma, a tumorous condition of the eye.

The total represented a fraction of more than 3.3 million cattle carcasses detained briefly in meat plants while parts were cut out because of other diseases and injuries ranging from adhesions to tuberculosis.

In all, the 1969-69 report shows, more than 10 per cent of the 30.1 million cattle carcasses approved by federal inspectors underwent some postmortem whittling for removal of offending parts.

Dr. Joseph S. Stein, head of slaughter inspection for the department, said cutting away an infected part from a red meat animal is no worse than a housewife removing a spot from

War Massacre Case Goes to Army Court

By JIM BAKER
Associated Press Writer
Ft. Benning, Ga. (AP) — The chief legal officer for this industry center testified today that information leading to murder charges against Lt. William L. Calley Jr. came from higher headquarters in Washington.

Col. Robert M. Lathrop told a pretrial hearing on defense motions that a sworn statement pertaining to the case was forwarded to him by the Army Inspector general's office.

However, Lathrop said he never received any instructions in preparing charges against Calley.

Calley, 26, is charged with murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968.

Lathrop was called as a witness on a defense motion which alleges that command influence was brought to bear in the decision to try Calley on the charges.

Lathrop said he discussed the case with the Judge Advocate General's office in Washington and was told "do nothing until you hear from us." He added that he later was told the case was "all yours."

"I went to the office of the Judge Advocate General in Washington for assistance in drafting specifications, and those specifications were sent to the student brigade in the event they saw fit to press charges," Lathrop testified.

Calley was assigned to the student brigade at Ft. Benning at the time.

Lathrop said he received a telephone call from a Col. William Chilcoat of the Judge Advocate General's office and that Chilcoat said, "Do nothing until you hear from us." He said this was in late August or early September 1969.

On the 4th of September, Lathrop received a call from Col. Chilcoat stating "it's all yours," Lathrop continued.

Lathrop said he passed that information on to Col. Lon C. Marlow, Calley's commanding officer at the time and now retired.

Calley was charged the day before his scheduled release from the Army Sept. 5, 1969.

Lathrop contends the Army has no jurisdiction over the Miami, Fla. native because he is being held on active duty past his release date.

U.S. Rules Hit in Nursing Home Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator probing an Ohio nursing home fire that killed 32 patients charged today the government's fire safety standards are old, weak and inadequate.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, criticized the standards on fabric for permitting approval of a quick-burning carpet blamed in the fire at Marietta, Ohio, one month ago.

Moss said not a single new fire safety standard had been set for textile products despite Congress' passage of the Flammable Fabrics Act two years ago.

Moss made the charges as his Senate subcommittee opened hearings on the fire at the Harmer House Convalescent Center at Marietta, The Ohio disaster was the second worst nursing home fire in the nation in the last decade.

Mrs. Charles Ellis entered Wadley Hospital Sunday for foot surgery this week.

Mrs. Martha Mangum, a resident of Hope, is leaving February 13 to join her husband, Specialist 4 Harlan Richard Mangum who is serving with the Armed Forces at Frankfurt, Germany.

Some 90 Hope Junior and senior high band and choir members went to Philadelphia last week to the community theater production of "Hello, Dolly!"... the local group reports this of blackbirds are roosting in a year's production was fine and that the choreography was especially good.

276 Head of WR Stock Sold for $500,000

MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP) — Winrock Farms has announced that it has completed negotiations for the sale of 276 head of cattle to the government of Portugal for $500,000.

Bob Child, manager of the farm, said the cattle would be distributed in Angola and Mozambique in Africa. Winrock is owned by Gov. Winrock Rockefeller.

Child said the cattle would be distributed to farmers, veterinary schools and experimental stations. The cattle will be shipped in April.

Says Nixon Will Act to Ease Tight Money, Cool Down Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors, says the administration probably will act to ease the tight monetary policies established to cool down the economy.

"Clearly, a continuation through 1970 of the rather restrictive policies that we had in 1969 would not be consistent with the outlook that we indicated" in the President's economic report, McCracken said Sunday.

McCracken joined other government economists over the weekend in declaring the administration has succeeded in slowing down the inflation spiral and, with the proper safeguards, without serious threat of recession.

117 Enemy Killed in 4-Day Battle

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese spokesmen said today that U.S. and government forces have killed at least 117 North Vietnamese and captured six in a four-day battle still going on in the western Mekong Delta's Plain of Reeds.

The battle in the savanna land — dry at this time of year — was the only sustained major fighting reported during the Viet Cong's four-day Tet cease-fire which ended at 7 a.m. today — 6 p.m. EST Sunday.

The fighting began when an American helicopter was fired on Friday. Government mercenaries led by U.S. Special Forces made a helicopter assault into the area, about eight miles southwest of Mae Hoa and 60 miles west of Saigon, and touched off a succession of running fights.

Field reports said about 10 government troops had been killed and a dozen wounded. The mercenaries and their Green Beret officers are being supported by American helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers.

In a clash this morning, government spokesmen said, two mercenaries were killed and one wounded and 10 enemy were killed. Twenty-six North Vietnamese were killed Sunday, government spokesmen said. No American casualties were reported.

The enemy troops are reported to be from the North Vietnamese 88th Regiment, one of four North Vietnamese regiments in the delta. It has operated near Chau Doc, 100 miles west of Saigon along the Cambodian border. Kien Tuong Province, where the current battle is being fought, is the farthest east that the unit has been sighted.

Laird, Top Military Men to Vietnam

By BOB MORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and his top military officer left for Vietnam today to check the prospects for further American troop withdrawals.

Laird, taking off from Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland, declined to say in advance whether the Nixon administration is ready to go beyond its latest announced 60,000 man pullout to be completed April 15.

The defense chief seemed to indicate, however, that the conditions may be right for additional cuts. He said the "Vietnamization" plan to turn over more combat responsibility to the South Vietnamese is "going forward at a very adequate pace."

It will be the defense chief's second visit to South Vietnam since becoming secretary of defense. Following Laird's first trip last March, President Nixon made a decision to order the first withdrawals from South Vietnam.

The troop ceiling has since been lowered from 549,500 to 434,000.

While noncommittal on most questions about the future of the war, Laird did use the occasion before a few reporters who saw him off at the airport to warn that the defense budget he recently submitted to Congress "cannot stand cuts."

"This is a rock bottom, bare bones budget," Laird said.

The $71.8 billion spending proposal for the fiscal year beginning next July has already been reduced $10 billion below the budget which had been proposed by the Johnson administration.

Laird said.

Small Change Taken in 2 Break-ins Here

Hope City Police investigated two auto accidents and two break-ins over the weekend.

At J & A Parts Co. on East Second downtown burglars broke the front door glass and took an undetermined amount of small change from the cash register. Nothing else seemed to be missing but the stock is being checked.

The cold drink box at Buckley's station at 3rd and Hervey was opened by a key and the money box taken. It contained only about $5 in cash. City Officers Milam and Halton investigated both break-ins.

Saturday on West Third St. vehicles driven by Henry Young of Mineral Springs and Imon Harris of Hope collided with minor damage resulting. City Officers Ward and Neal charged young with driving while intoxicated.

Sunday at Third and Main Streets cars driven by Charles Shappard and Tom Purvis, both of Hope, collided with very minor damage resulting. No charge was filed according to Officer Halton of the City Police.

12 to Decide Fate of 7 in Riot Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — Ten women and two men who have witnessed nearly five months of voluminous testimony, bizarre behavior and angry exchanges between the defense and prosecution must decide soon the fate of seven political activists.

The next few days are crucial for the seven defendants, who are charged with conspiring to incite rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

U.S. Aids Vietnam
The House of Representatives today passed a bill to provide $1.5 billion in military aid to South Vietnam.

The bill, which was passed by a vote of 347 to 10, authorizes the president to provide military equipment and supplies to the South Vietnamese government.

The bill also provides for the training of South Vietnamese troops and the construction of military facilities.

The bill is part of a larger package of aid to South Vietnam, which includes $1.5 billion in military aid and $1.5 billion in economic aid.

The bill is expected to be signed into law by the president in the next few days.

Octane Is Key to Engine Clattering
By O. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The machine-gun clattering and popping of an automobile engine during heavy acceleration is more than a nuisance. It's likely to be expensive.

The noises, called "knock" or "ping," mean the car is burning the wrong gasoline. The result can be a battered piston. Signs that a car owner has been using the wrong gasoline can void his warranty.

Even if the engine noises don't tip off a driver, he can still be using the wrong gasoline. There'll be no damage to the engine, but he'd be spending more money on gasoline than necessary.

The key to a happy marriage of engine and fuel is octane rating—the ability of a gasoline to resist knocking.

How easily a driver can find out the octane rating of a specific gasoline is a point of contention.

Oil companies say the information is furnished to all their dealers. The Federal Trade Commission has a bundle of complaints from drivers who say getting the information from a service station operator is next to impossible.

As a result, the commission has proposed—in the face of industry opposition—that a gasoline's octane rating be clearly displayed on filling station pumps.

When a gasoline's octane is too low, the fuel in the combustion chamber explodes prematurely, catching the piston in mid-stroke and sending a severe jolt into the car's power system.

Says Labor to Oppose New Constitution
By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, says labor will oppose a new constitution for the state.

Becker said he does not believe his organization can support the proposed new constitution because of the "right-to-work" provision.

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education will decide at its summer convention whether to support the new document.

In the meantime, Becker is reserving judgment.

"We're going to look at the whole document," he said in an interview Saturday. "We're not going to be one-issue oriented."

"I think they (the delegates) conscientiously tried to meet some of the objections we raised, but I don't know if enough has been done to satisfy labor," Becker said.

The right-to-work issue still hangs there and there are other things that undoubtedly we will be looking at."

He said the convention's third and final draft was more favorable to labor than its second one.

SEATTLE (AP) — A Soviet employee of the United Nations refuses to comment on charges of espionage against him. The State Department, the FBI in Washington and the Soviet mission to the United Nations also are keeping quiet on the case.

Aleksandr Vassilevich Tikhomirov, 37, remained in city jail on an FBI complaint which said he had conspired with Russian agents and "other persons unknown" since Jan. 4, 1969, to obtain information about U.S. defenses.

An unidentified official of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., visited Tikhomirov in his cell for about 30 minutes Sunday, but made no attempt to post bail.

Bail of $100,000 was set Saturday by U.S. Commissioner Walter J. Reberg, who scheduled a hearing Wednesday.

Anti-Hijacking System Cuts Plane Thefts, Airline Finds

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — NEA — Next time you go to an airport, don't be surprised if you get the feeling that somebody or something is watching you.

Somebody or something may well be. If your clothes are a bit baggy, or you've got a nervous twitch, or the package under your arm is long and thin—you may be scrutinized by the new "anti-hijacking system" now in operation in some U.S. airports.

The system, made up of human and mechanical investigatory efforts, is the air industry's best—indeed only—protection against plane confiscations.

And few deny it is sorely needed. The official records on sky-jackings date back all the way to 1930. Since then, there have been at least 195 attempts to divert aircraft in the world. Of these attempts, 150 have been successful. 56 have involved U.S. transports, and almost one-third have ended up in Havana.

For years, airlines stood almost passively by as the hijackings grew. A few did try to spot-check baggage and passengers—but this proved legally and psychologically unwise. The suggestion was made to put armed guards on all airliners—but this was quickly discarded. So frantic was the befuddlement, somebody even suggested building a look-alike Havana airport in Florida.

Then, last November, Eastern Airlines and the Federal Aviation Agency conspired to put the present anti-hijacking system in use at several ports.

And the result has been clearly magnificent. Gene Dubois, a spokesman for Eastern, puts it this way: "In the first 10 months of 1969, we had a total of 10 hijackings. Then we put the system in. And since that time, we haven't had one. That's right, not a single one."

Eastern officials are overjoyed. And no wonder. Not only have they slowed hijacks, they have not had to go to any great complexities to do it.

Here's how their system works: Certain members of Eastern's staff and crews have been designated as watch-dogs at various (not all) U.S. airports. They are trained to spot potential hijackers. And they do so in conjunction with regular duties.

Just what the staffers look for is not known. FAA psychologists have studied behavioral attitudes of all past hijackers, but the list they've drawn is known only to authorities and a limited number of air employees.

The guess is that airline agents probably look for peculiarities in manner or dress—and it's almost certain all Spanish-speaking body has been arrested. Oh, there was one man caught at an Eastern gate with a .38 revolver in his pocket. But it turned out he had a permit. It also turned out he was above reproach. And that's the closest call the system has had to date.

Undoubtedly, the present anti-hijack system is far from being foolproof. For one thing, all hijackers don't fit stereotypes. For another, the metal-sensing machines are located at only a few airline gates. For a third, the fact is that some perfectly normal-acting people have hijacked airplanes with implements that even physical search might not find.

But the authorities know all this. And they, in fact, admit the anti-hijacking system is not primarily meant to be a last line of hijacking defense.

Rather, says Eastern's Dubois: "The system's real value

Demos Likely to Ask Total Withdrawal

By CARL F. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Policy Council was summoned into session today to set on a series of broad domestic and foreign policy statements including a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam within 18 months.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., saying he did not want to undermine President Nixon's efforts to settle the war, suggested in advance of the meeting the 40-member council delete any specific time limit from the proposal drafted by a subcommittee headed by Averell Harriman.

Meanwhile, antiwar factions on the council were considering a bid to strengthen the Harriman statement.

The all-day council meeting came a day after congressional Democrats presented a nationally televised view of the state of the nation, an equal-time reply to Nixon's State of the union message.

The Democratic version focused on a troubled citizenry and the issues of this congressional election year. It consisted of interviews and discussions between congressional Democrats and citizens in Washington, Los Angeles, Houston and Detroit.

The airing of the Democratic show prompted T. Coleman Andrews Jr. of Richmond, Va., national chairman of the American party, to ask major television networks Sunday night for equal treatment for his organization of third-party groups that backed George C. Wallace's presidential campaign in 1968.

For a first-hand look at coal mining in southwest Virginia, photographer Kenneth Murray took his camera to the "dog holes" where men on their hands and knees grub for a livelihood much as their fathers did 30 years ago. These are the small mines whose owners see the union, taxes and safety legislation as means to an end of their operation.

TOPSIDE at a small mine in Appalachia. Owners figure they will have to close if new safety legislation is too stiff. Five men operate the mine, shooting the coal with small blasts to break it up, then loading it by hand onto motorized cars for the trip out. Miners are paid according to the number of cars they load.

GOING ON GO, this miner claims he can "shovel coal with the best of 'em." He's paid $1.15 per car of coal he loads (about two tons to the cart) and usually averages 13 cars a day. "Scratching a living out of a dog hole is a struggle," he said, "but then so is a potato farm."

Flags Worn by Arkansas Policemen

By JIM MCCALL
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Several Arkansas law enforcement officers have added replicas of the American flag to their uniforms and patrol cars to show support for "law, order and Americanism."

There doesn't appear to be an organized drive to get law officers to attach the flags to their uniforms. Most say they got the idea from someone else and thought it was patriotic to display the flag.

Wayne Hyden, police chief at Springdale for 18 years, said he read where officers in Macon, Ga., were wearing the replicas on their uniforms and said he thought it was a good idea.

"In my many years with the department, I don't think we've ever initiated anything that has drawn as many nice compliments from the public as this has," Hyden said. "I think that anyone who displays the American flag shows they are interested in their country. I think it's the patriotic thing to do."

Hyden also said he thinks that the flags have a direct effect on reducing assaults on officers.

Charles Merideth, who has been chief of police at Trumann for nearly a year, said Trumann officers are wearing the American flag replicas on their jackets.

Merideth said he and his officers had been wearing the flags for about a week and had not received much public reaction, but he said comments he had received were favorable.

Merideth said he got the idea of wearing the patches from a magazine article, but he could not remember the name of the magazine.

"We stand for law and order in Arkansas and in the United States," Merideth said, "and these flags show the people that we're not ashamed of what we represent."

State Police Trooper Jim Thomas of Mountain Home, president of the North Central Arkansas and Missouri Peace Officers Association, said that the organization had ordered a supply of American flag shoulder patches and would make them available to any police or sheriff's department that wanted them.

"Police departments around the country are having quite a bit of trouble with public relations and these flags seem to help," Thomas said.

12 Persons Die on State Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Col. Ralph Scott, the director of the State Police, has attributed the high death rate on the state's highways last weekend to the failure of motorists to adjust to existing driving conditions.

Between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday 12 persons were killed.

Scott said the death toll was an "isolated occurrence."

Roy Ship Dunn, 71, of Booneville was killed Sunday when he attempted to make a left turn at an intersection in Booneville and his auto was struck in the side by a car driven by Ronnie Leftwich, 17, of Booneville, State Police said. Leftwich was injured.

He was the chancellor of the 14th Judicial District.

David London, 44, of near Lexa (Phillips County) and Solomon Booker, 41, of West Helena were killed and three other persons were injured in a head-on collision between two vehicles Saturday night on Arkansas 49 east of Marvell.

London, Booker and L. C. Smith, 56, of West Helena, who was injured, were riding in a car and the other injured, William O'Neal, 21, of near Marvell and Pete Wallace, 53, of Aubrey, were in a pickup truck.

Curtis Chappell, 60, of Memphis, Tenn., was injured in a collision with a car on Highway 49 near Booneville.

Wes Uhlman, 34, Mayor, said he didn't want to popularize the cause of the black militant organization.

The mayor announced in a public appearance last week that a federal law enforcement agency had asked his administration last month for aid in proposed federal-city "information-gathering" raid on Panther headquarters. The raid was not held.

Uhlman refused to name the agency, but Seattle newspapers said it was the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Tax Unit of the Internal Revenue Service.

Local officials of the unit would not comment.

Investigators said the motorcycle was traveling north on a stretch of new highway that has not been opened to traffic and collided with the car at the intersection of the new construction with the old highway.

Laura J. Zajac, 18, of Schiller Park, Ill., was injured.

Rogers Finds Concern Over Arms Issue

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Moroccan Foreign Minister Abdel Hafid Boutaleb met again today with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and expressed his government's concern over the prospect of more American arms shipments to Israel, Moroccan sources reported.

There was no indication of what Rogers said in reply.

It was the third meeting of the foreign minister and the secretary. Rogers told newsmen that their first talk after his arrival in Africa Saturday night was very friendly, with the Moroccan economy, North African affairs and the appointment of a new American ambassador among subjects discussed.

Rogers said the Arab-Israeli conflict was not discussed then. But at a dinner party he gave for Rogers Sunday night, Boutaleb said he intended to raise "subjects which provoke our special concern—I may even say worry."

Rogers also was to meet Prime Minister Ahmed Laraki today and lunch with King Hassan II.

Local Fish Farmer Seeks Cage Permit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Game and Fish Commission plans to lease acreage in some of its lakes for the production of "cage-culture" fish.

Director Andrew Hulsey said Saturday cage-grown fish could open a new industry for Arkansas. The fish would be produced from fingerlings in submerged cages.

Hulsey said the acreage would be leased to commercial fish producers, but that so far only Paul Oller of Hope had applied for a lease.

He said Oller wanted to grow fish in Lower White Oak Lake near Camden.

Hulsey said leases would be on a share-crop basis. "We'll settle during the first three-year period for a 5 per cent share of the crop," he said.

The private operations will take only a small portion of the lakes, he said. A producer would be allowed only five acres for fish cages in a lake of 2,000 acres, Hulsey said.

The surgeon general said lesions and tumors associated with leukemia viruses in chickens "are in fact indicators of widespread 'systemic disease' in the rest of the bird."

Therein lies another significant difference between poultry and red meat animals, Stein told a reporter.

With some possible exception,

There is no tumorous disease of cattle which is known to be even associated at this present stage of the game with a virus affecting humans, Stein said.

The only possibility, he said, is malignant lymphoma, which in cattle may be "somewhat similar" to human leukemia and the leukemia in chickens.

But when this disease is detected, Stein said, the entire carcass is condemned as human food. There were 4,831 such rejections last year.

Moreover, he said, if cancer eye is found to have spread to the animal's lymph system—sort of a filter apparatus—the entire carcass also is condemned.

Stein said 60 years of experience has shown these methods to be a satisfactory, safe and acceptable procedure and that new federal meat regulations expected to be adopted soon will continue the practice.

It's strange how much better the reading is if the palm is first dusted liberally with silver.
